Date: September 5th-8th, 2023

Venue: Hyatt Regency Crystal City, 2799 Richmond Hwy, Arlington, VA 22202

The African Infrastructure, Climate Change, and Investment Summit (AICIS) + Exhibit is a vital event, running from 5th -8th september,2023, at the Hyatt Regency Crystal City, 2799 Richmond Hwy, Arlington, VA 22202, - Washington DC (HyattRegencyCrystalCity.com)

Former President Obama would be invited to open the Summit, with participation from several present and past African Heads of State, Heads of Government, the United Nations, African Union, private sectors, and heads of CSOs. The main objective of the event is to create a strategic action plan for leveraging climate change initiatives outlined in the national and regional plans of African countries, with a focus on providing long-term solutions to African challenges in infrastructure development, clean energy, climate change, technology, mining, women's economic empowerment, trade, and investment.

The AICIS aims to strengthen collaboration between African governments and private sector businesses in promoting and implementing the December 2022 US-Africa Business Summit of heads of state, as well as US climate change policies and objectives. The summit also aims to mobilize government and institutional investors to capitalize on the $12 trillion worth of investment and partnership opportunities in infrastructure, green-energy transition, and climate change in Africa.

The event is not only about investing, but also fostering long-term partnerships that benefit US and Africa Businesses involved. Through this summit, we aim to assess Africa's economic and security infrastructure, identify new development partners, and increase and mobilize development resources to contribute to Africa's accelerated development mission.

The summit provides an opportunity to develop trade partnerships and export opportunities between US and African governments and private sector businesses. The event's itinerary includes a summit opening ceremony, plenary and executive workshop-breakout sessions, dinner, participation certificates, and an award night.

The summit is partnering and collaborating with support from the White House/US Presidency through the Office of the Vice President of the United States of America, H.E Kamala Harris, US Secretary of State, Mr. Antony Blinken,, and the Special Presidential Envoy for Climate Mr. John F. Kerry. The event also has support from the diplomatic community, including various African Embassies and mission's resident in the US as well as the US embassies in Africa such as the Nigerian Embassy in Washington DC, Ghana, D.R.C, and the United States embassy in the Nigeria, Ghana and Kenyan etc.

The Africa Summit (AICIS) is an event that targets to brings together more than 1,500 participants including 400 exhibitors and stakeholders from all sectors to discuss and address the key issues affecting Africa's development and growth. Join us to become a part of this essential conversation and help foster long-term partnerships that benefit everyone involved.

In order to ensure its success, the event has also selected a number of other highly important collaborators and partners:

- US Department of Energy
- Africa's Ministry of Energy, Ministry of industries, trade and investments, ministry of foreign Affairs
- The Business Council for Sustainable Energy (BCSE), Clean Energy Business Network, Discover Global Markets business development forum of the U.S. Department of Commerce
- The Climate Investment Funds (CIF), many of which are the least equipped yet the most susceptible to the problems of climate change, is a facilitator of pioneering climate-smart planning and climate action in poor and middle-income nations. CIF reacts to the global climate catastrophe with extensive, inexpensive, and long-term financial solutions to assist nations in achieving their climate goals.
